THE PRESIDENT'S TELEGRAM.

The epic telegram of President Roca to General Villegas which we give at foot, and which commemorates the close of the latter's most brilliant campaign is, as a literary composition, worthy of the pen of the best editors Buenos Aires can produce.

President Roca so embodies everything in his message, that he leaves the Press room to add nothing. The past, the present, and the future are all grasped in this telegraphic message, and the vivifying heat of Peace and Labour, to which he so beautifully alludes, is felt much nearer home than in the steppes of the Andes, and is expressing in a thousand ways a National prosperity hitherto unheard of and unknown in the River Plate.

Nahuel-Huapi and Bariloche are such new names in our geography, that now that our cohorts return covered with laurels which the President well says will never wither, a new expedition to these reclaimed territories will be needed, and science will follow in the foot-prints of the Argentine soldier, to mark, measure and explore countries hitherto only known to the Indians. The Geographer and the land-surveyor must now take possession of these lands which, if properly handled by the Government, may, even in the short space of a generation, become the happy homesteads of a large portion of the surplus population of Europe.

We call the special attention of our readers to the wording of this telegram, since we accept the message as the true programme of the young man who at present rules this country; and if we find in this message paragraphs unknown to the ordinary hum-drum routine of political or Government telegraphic codes, we charge the innovation to a generous enthusiasm on the part of President Roca, of which he may well feel proud, and which has tinged the march of his Administration since we had the good luck to get him into office.

The following is the message:—

I have just received the telegram in which you report to the Inspector of Arms your return to the encampment on the Rio Negro, having left in the regained territory the necessary garrisons, to secure our dominion and prevent the return to their former haunts of the last Mohicans of the Pampa.

I have watched with the keenest interest all the incidents of your brilliant campaign, and again had occasion to admire the solid military qualities of the Argentine soldier, a genuine warrior, who never feels hunger, fatigue, or fear, and is ever ready for the most daring and dangerous exploits.

Nahuel Huapi and Bariloche, the land of the Aucas, where you have left waving the victorious flag of your country are, General, the Pillars of Hercules in this great epopee of that Desert which has cost the Republic such sweat of blood and such oceans of tears.

The wave of Barbarians that for centuries inundated the vast and fertile Pampa, and which, as it were, kept us imprisoned within narrow limits, forcing humiliating tributes from us, has been at last broken and forced back to its source beyond the mountains.

Beyond the enchanted Lake of blue waters on the banks of which the tents of the Argentine battalions now stand, on spots where, in a not remote future opulent cities will spring up, no Indians, nor their nomadic wigwams, or their formidable Chiefs who frightened away the shepherds and farmers are now to be seen. The peaceful, hospitable and gentle-natured Patagonians will not require to be forced by arms into obedience to the laws of the nation.

These laurels, General, will ever remain green on the brows of the gallant men who scaled the rocky and snow-clad heights of the Andes, and will serve as a permanent claim on the attention and gratitude of the people. Such services to the civilisation and aggrandizement of the nation are amongst those which a nation never forgets, and so, the result of your campaign has echoed in the farthest corners of the country, as it puts an end for ever to a sad and lugubrious chapter in our history.

The vivifying heat of Peace and Labour—now the motto of the Argentine Republic—will speedily cause these virgin wastes to open their fertile womb and, with leaf-shaded valley, vine-clad hills, seas of waving grain, and innumerable, bleating flocks and lowing herds, serve up a splendid and abundant banquet to thousands, aye millions, of human beings who will never forget, in their joy and the intoxication of wealth and comfort, the humble heroes who handed over to human energy such a wide and now safe field for its exercise.

Therefore, the best congratulations I can offer you, General Villegas, and the Division you have so ably commanded, is to tell you that the Government and the whole people are alike proud of their soldiers.

And your Chief and friend, who knows well what compensation for the soldier in his hours of anxiety the emotions evoked by these campaigns in the Desert are, and who regrets that they are over, as they were an excellent training school for both the officers and rank and file of the army, warmly clasps your hand and sends greeting to all your companions in arms.

Julio A. Roca.

ARGENTINE PROGRESS.

The province of Santiago del Estero, which previous to the Roca presidency was perhaps the most backward of all the Argentine provinces, is now making the most remarkable progress: its sugar crop this year reaches 300,000 arrobes, and next year will reach one million arrobes. The best and most costly English and French machinery for sugar mills is constantly arriving at Rosario consigned to Santiago del Estero, and at the rate things are progressing, Santiagonian sugar will soon be selling in every grocery store in town, and every 'pulperia' in the camp. But it is not alone in its sugar that the progress of Santiago is apparent; its fine estancia lands in the south, that have either been monopolized by one or two ambitious parties, or lain idle for want of capital to stock, are now all coming to the front, and although, owing to their remote position they still rule at very low prices; yet the days are gone when one could buy good estancia lands in Santiago at 200 pats per league, and within the last 12 months several places have been stocked with horned cattle.

Formerly, in fact up to within a year or two ago, the population of Santiago was too much for it, and periodically the Santiagonians left their province for other parts, to obtain employment. In the province of Buenos Aires the Santiagonian peones spread over the whole camp, and they were to be found as peones on every large estancia, and very capital peones some of them made too, as most of our friends the estancieros can testify to. Of late, however, we have had no fresh arrivals of Santiagonians, and on enquiry we find that they have now so much to do at home, and such excellent wages are paid, that they do not migrate as formerly. Crops of various kinds are cultivated with the greatest success; the people have given up living on the algaroba fruit, they have even abandoned the practice of speaking Quichua, and the children of the poorest are now taught to speak and to pray in Spanish. Thus one finds improvement in every department and as the Santiagonians are very industrious and good agricultural farmers, we have no doubt that very soon Santiago will be as agricultural as Santa Fe.

In calling attention to the rise and progress of Santiago del Estero, our chief object is to show that the great improvement in the River Plate, and its very marked progress, is not limited to Buenos Aires, Rosario or Bahia Blanca. Although the traffic in our streets is at certain hours of the day, as great as in many European cities, and although the value of our estancia lands is each day improving, and although the business on our railways is such as to place our 5 per cent Railway Debentures in London at 6 premium, still all these are to our minds less positive proof of real national growth than the rise and march of such an out of the way corner as Santiago del Estero; and had we time at our disposal it is possible that we might discover in the other provinces, still farther off, the same undeniable evidence of Argentine progress.

AGRICULTURE IN CATAMARCA.

The following details, respecting the agricultural advancement of the above province for the past year, have been forwarded by Samuel A. Lafone Quevado, in his yearly report:—

Owing to the backward condition in which we are placed, with regard to the means for pushing ahead our cereals, it will be useless, for the present, to imagine that we can increase their production, for the same thing occurs with us that happened to the labourer in Singuil, viz., in a bad year everything is lost, and, in a good one, we lose everything, since we lack the means, whereby the profits that we should gain are lost.

The tobacco production is an industry that pays better than any other, notwithstanding the heavy freights, yet, owing to the antiquated system of cultivating this plant, and the little attention paid to its refinement, the benefits which we should reap, due to the superiority of our tobaccoes, over those of Tucuman, in strength and colour, are lost. We must patiently wait for the coming of such men as the Messrs. Mendez to do for this product what they have done for the sugar-cane, and, in the meanwhile, we can only refer to it as one of the latent riches of the country that awaits its Columbus.

But the industry that has certainly received a great impetus is wine. Men have at last awakened to the importance of this production, and means for its advancement and refinement are eagerly looked for.

Such being the case, it is of the highest interest to note the results which the vines give on an establishment founded by Sr. Dn. Francis Durand, in the Department of Andalgalá. This gentlemen has recently planted 40,000 vines, that are already producing. This is the finest vineyard in Catamarca, and I think, I can say, in the northern parts of the Republic, which is being worked by the plough, and with results that cannot be questioned.

The vine-growers of Fuerte de Andalgalá have been fairly astonished, as the moment has arrived for the complete success of this industry. The owners of Huazon are preparing to plant from 50,000 to 100,000 vines during this and next year, basing their prospects on the good results which have attended Sr. Durand; and it is also rumoured on good authority that the proprietor of the magnificent establishment in Anniquen, in Tinogasta, intends devoting his attention to this industry.

The whistle of the locomotive at Chumbicha has awakened us all up here, and everyone is purporting to avail himself of the facilities which this means of transport offers all. To it may be attributed the sale, by the Provincial Government, of Mr. Durand's fine establishment, because this gentleman alone, with his experiences acquired in France, and his go-a-headism, can blot out all the antiquated and used-up traditions of our old and retrograde vine-growers. This progressive step made by Sr. Durand is of the highest importance for the whole country, and merits to be marked in our annals as the great triumph of 1882.

If Y.E. would consider it worth while, I will have great pleasure in keeping you posted up in the progress which attends these newly-planted vines on the French system, for I consider the results which may attend this gentleman's labours will solve the problem for the future of our province, knowing that the production of this most valuable species of vine requires the least irrigation. All who understand the cultivation of the vine will agree with me that this industry, and no other, will enrich us in the future, as the sugar-cane has enriched the inhabitants of Tucuman.

I do not doubt that Y.E. will agree with me that everything that will tend to the plantation of vines is of the greatest importance for the future of our province, since in a short time every other industry must give way to it. It is for this that I have limited my opinions to the labours of Sr. Durand, because they are for our advancement, and have attracted the attention of those that have seen them, creating many new founders, whose wish is to spread it throughout this department and the whole province, and even through the neighbouring ones.

LONDON LETTER.

THE "HAP'PORTH OF TAR REFUSED."

March 15, 1882.

Soon after Mr. Gladstone's return from France it was rumoured that, contrary to the statements made by Lord Hartington in the House, the Premier had resolved on meeting Mr. Parnell's Amendments to the Land Bill in a friendly spirit. There is much reason to believe that these rumours had some foundation, but the bitter east wind of an English March nipped in the bud the generous views Mr. Gladstone had imbibed with returning vigour, in the warm climate of the shores of the Mediterranean. He was quickly surrounded by the Whig families, and Lord Spencer expressly warned him that if further concessions were made to the Irish people or party, agitation and outrage might recommence, and just at a time when not only Ireland was tranquil, under the influence of the Crimes' Act, &c., but when Carey's revelations and the absconding of Egan had discredited the Land League in the eyes of the English and Scotch people, and the more moderate Home Rulers even in Ireland; consequently, Mr. Gladstone took a very firm stand, and spoke, as Mr. Sexton admitted, very plainly, when on Wednesday night last Mr. Parnell, in a careful and moderate speech, proposed to remedy certain imperfections in the Land Law (Ireland) Act of 1881. The amendments referred—1st, To the date from which the judicial rent should date. 2nd. The suspension of ejectments pending the fixation of a fair rent. 3d. The tenants' improvements, which, it was claimed, should embrace all agricultural operations that enhanced the value of a holding. 4th. The increase in the letting value of the holding should belong to the tenant. 5th. The forbearance of the landlord in not exacting higher rent should not be counted as compensation for improvements. 6th. The presumption, in regard to improvements should be in favour of the tenant. 7th. Power should be given to leaseholders to apply to the court to fix a fair rent. 8th. The advance of the full amount, instead of three-fourths, to purchasing tenants, and an extension of the time of repayment to fifty-three years instead of thirty-five.

Apart from party and political interests Mr. Gladstone, as a practical statesman, has to consider there is not one of these eight propositions which is not debateable, and which, before long, will not be law, if not superseded by much more violent measures. The logic and the facts were all on the side of the Irish members in this memorable debate, so fully reported in the Times of the 15th. The speakers in favour of the amendments were Mr. Parnell, Mr. T. Dickson—who, let it be understood, was spokesman of the loyal Ulster tenantry—Mr. Sexton, Mr. Byrne, Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Shaw—not of Mr. Parnell's party. On the Government side were Mr. Chaplin, Mr. Gladstone, the Solicitor-General (Herschel) and Colonel King-Harman. The speeches of these few members occupy eight columns of the Times. The division resulted in a majority against Mr. Parnell's Bill of 187—250 against 63. Under the circumstances, and taking into consideration that Mr. Chaplin, an out-and-out Tory, "an evangelist of an obsolete creed," as Mr. Sexton, in a bitter and clever speech, called him, was the member who moved that the Bill be read six months hence, and that he was supported by the fellowers of Mr. Gladstone, as well as by the whole Conservative party, the minority of 63 was decidedly large, and included men like Mr. Brodrick, Mr. Bryce, Mr. Cowen, Mr. John Morley and other English members, who are noted for their political, or political economic knowledge. The vote of any one of them is, in the eyes of any intellectual person, worth fifty such votes as may be had for the asking from aldermen, half-pay colonels, country gentlemen, lordlings and brewers, who vote as they are told, which is, at least, safer than were they to vote as they are pleased to think. If you do not attend to these questions, you will be thoroughly misled by the bellowing of the Times and other papers as to the meaning of Mr. Parnell's defeat.

Mr. Gladstone himself put the question fairly from the point of view he had chosen for the moment to adopt. He frankly acknowledged that in regard to two matters of detail, the date from which judicial rents were to be fixed and the inclusion of town parks in the Act, they would eventually receive the attention of the Government, but he was not disposed to alter "organically the principles of the Land Act of 1881. He was evidently not unmindful that the modifications made in the Healy clause of that Bill were made by him to get the Bill through the House of Lords, to him a mere matter of practical statesmanship, although, as he would confess himself, it was a matter of vital importance to Irish tenants. He, however, allowed it to be seen that where he differed "organically from Mr. Parnell, was in the fact that the Land Act of 1881 was, confessedly, a compromise, and that if it was intended to very much benefit the tenants, it was also intended to leave to the landlords some greater interest in their properties than a mere "prairie rent," and it was not intended to hand over the land of Ireland from one class to another. This last point is, of course, the weak point of the Parnellites, although simply, as a question between the landlords and tenants, they have all the facts and arguments on their side, and it is not denied that the decision in the case of Adams v. Dunseatto, quoted by Mr. Parnell, is contrary to the spirit of the Land Act, which, in regard to the tenants' improvements, is, as Mr. Parnell expressed it, "ridden through by the landlords in a coach and six."

Mr. Gladstone, were he disposed to open up the question this session, would be the first to admit the necessity of applying remedies to the present operation of the Act. Not having the quickened feelings of an Irish tenant himself, he prescribes patience and wishes the Act to have a fair trial, and he solemnly reproved Mr. Parnell for calling the present judicial rents "rack-rents," but he omitted to notice that Mr. Dickson, the spokesman of the Ulster Liberals and the Ulster Tenant Right Association, said nearly the same thing, and in objecting to some details in Mr. Parnell's Bill he gave it his general support.

I have exhausted my paper and, perhaps, your patience; but, believe me that whatever you see in our timid, time-serving, bullying newspapers, so frightened of being numbered with "assassins," that Mr. Gladstone has added to his many mistakee in yielding to Whig family interests and not meeting Mr. Parnell generously.

So long as landlords exist in Ireland, the Irish question will never be finally settled, do what we will; but there can be no doubt that the Land Act requires remedying, and it could have been done this session if Mr. Gladstone had chosen to set aside Lord Hartington and other false friends in the Cabinet.

The "ha'porth of tar" they refuse may cost the Government much trouble. Lord Spencer may think he is doing a great service in suppressing outrages. He would have done better service had he not interfered with Mr. Gladstone's reported intentions, and allowed him to remove as much as possible the causes of outrage, that is, by doing all he can, short of handing the soil of Ireland from one set of owners to another. The final owners will be the State, and Mr. Davitt, rather than Mr. Parnell is the winning horse.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

April 13th.

I believe that were we to make a close calculation, it would be found that we in this Argentine Republic are amongst the most highly-taxed people on the face of the globe, and possess fewer results to show for it than any other civilized nation. What have we to show, after all, in a country that possesses a much larger income than Canada, with its five millions of inhabitants?

In the way of public works, the nation has about a thousand kilometres of railway, and a complete connection of telegraphic wires between two principal towns of the Republic. What else? A national college in each of the capital towns of the provinces. Anything else? A bit of magnificent mountain road, a few miles in length, between Catamarca and Tucuman; a decent, but by no means commodious, mule road across the Andes at Uspallata; a few public works in and about the Capital. And what else? Absolutely nothing, except a solitary bridge or two, like that at Fraile Muerte over the Tercero. Yet we are not only heavily taxed, but we have a heavy National debt.

Roads and bridges form so important an item in the wants of a nation that in some countries there is a special ministerial department devoted to them.

When Dr. Rawson was Minister of the Interior he made a special fund for the object of improving the means of communication in this vast region. The special loan did not go far; and, if I am not mistaken, the funds in the greater part were applied by the following Administrations to other purposes. Any way the means of communication in the country, apart from the railways, are pretty much the same now as twenty years ago. Railways are a wonderful help to all the industrial interests of a country; but good roads and bridges are also an important adjunct. In fact, we might do without railways (they were not known sixty years ago), but no country can do without roads. Let any one travel about the provinces of San Juan, Rioja, Catamarca, and, in fact, all the northern and north-west provinces, and he will find to his cost how little of the large revenue of the country is spent in improving the means of communication. With the sole exception I have mentioned above, the roads are in the same state as they were in the epoch of the Spanish domination. No attempt to overcome the natural difficulties of mountains, and as for bridges, the knowledge of them died out with the Incas; and when the rivers are flooded the patient carreteros and mulateers loosen their animals to graze, and wait for the waters to subside. Thus it is throughout the whole Republic, with the exception of Buenos Ayres; and even there we often hear of loss of life for want of bridges.

Besides roads, we have the great questions of canalization and irrigation, on which the Government has never yet spent a dollar. We all know the wonderful results of irrigation in the warmer parts of this country. To it we owe our wine, our sugar and tobacco industries; yet we allow ninety-nine-hundredth of the precious element to lose itself in the Pampa bogs or turn into salt lakes for want of outlet. The beautiful River Dulce, which will soon be lined with sugar plantations, loses itself, or rather forms a large inland sea, which, of course, being without an outlet, is quite salt, while its feeder is fresh. A canal or channel cut from this immense sheet of water to the Parana would not only afford means of communication, but would, in all probability—nay, to a certainty—form a fresh water river once the contents of the huge lake were set in motion and drawn off. Hundreds of such works and thousands of bridges are required in the country. The roads in the upper provinces should be made not only practicable but easy, and a broad causeway over the Andes on which a coach-and-four might pass at a gallop.

My stars! Do our Governments suppose that their duties end with collecting taxes, making railways, and slaughtering Indians? Look at the English colonies; look at Canada, for instance, when she was alone with a population little over ours and not half the revenue. Her public works are the admiration of the world. The Welland and the St. Lawrence canals are wonders of engineering skill, and join the Atlantic with the great inland seas.

Let us keep cool and change the subject.

I compliment the light literature man of the Libertad on a clever production that afforded me quite a pleasure in perusing. He has translated a verse of an old English nursery rhyme and taken it as a text to preach a funny and really poetical sermon from, something in the Josh Billings style. The English verses are as follows, and are familiar to every English-speaking man, woman or child:—

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"I'm going a milking, sir," she said.
"May I go with you, my own pretty maid?"
"Just as you please, sir," she said.

I will observe, however, that in the translation the Libertad has not caught the true spirit of the lines. Let us see:

"A donde vais, mi esbelta y bella niña?"
"Voy á ordenar, señor," fue su respuesta.
"Mi permites que os acompañe, niña?"
"Bien venido, señor," fue su respuesta.

This translation is not only stiff and not rhythmical, but loses the spirit and playfulness of the original. "Pretty Maid" is difficult to translate, from the fact that "maid," in the dainty sense the word has with us, does not exist in the Spanish language, like the words "home" and "wife." Nothing could be further from the sense of "pretty maid" than turning it into "mi esbelta y bella niña"; and the saucy and laughing answer, "Just as you please, sir," is very lamely translated into "Bien venido, señor." I have tried my hand at a translation for the Libertad as a substitute for his, and I ask his opinion on its merits. I think Mr. Sarmiento might improve on it. He is just as clever on trifles as on grave subjects. Here is my translation:

"Adonde te vas, mi linda doncella?"
"Voy á ordeñar," dijo ella.
"Podré acompañarte, mi linda doncella?"
"Como os plazca, señor," dijo ella.

THE CHARITY CONCERT.

The enterprising residents of Belgrano gave a grand concert at the National Theatre on Thursday night, which was attended by a select and crowded audience, including H. E. the Governor of the Province. All the boxes were crowded with beautiful girls, some from Belgrano and several well known and much admired Porteñas. A chorus of forty ladies, well trained, is no easy task to assemble; it serves to show the go-a-head spirit which exists in Belgrano. All other suburban villages are indeed a sleepy lot compared with it; even Buenos Aires does not advance at the same rate. I should not be surprised if they erected an Opera House on their own account there.

It may be still in time to transport all the bricks and mortar, engineers, architects, surveyors and supernumeraries from 'La Plata' to Belgrano and thus save the country many millions of patacons. Had the public not been informed that the performers were all amateurs, they certainly never would have dreamt it. The Sta. Centeno sang a beautiful romance which elicited unbounded and well merited applause. Bernasconi's grand march, admirably executed by the orchestra, is a fine martial piece of music. What most charmed the audience was Sta. Carmen Butti's performance on the violin, this young lady plays with exquisite taste and feeling, and reminds one of young Dengremont whose artistic performances are never to be forgotten. Too much praise could not possibly be bestowed on this talented young lady. There was a Tarantela artistically played on the Copophone by Miss Adelaide Allan, accompanied on the piano by Bernasconi, and the whole performance left nothing to be desired and might be called a charming 'reunion de famille,' which should be repeated. All the musical contributors only require to be more known to be appreciated.

STATE OF IRELAND.

Dublin, March 13.

A deputation representing the Chamber of Commerce waited upon his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant this afternoon to present a memorial in regard to the new postal contract, which is a subject of much anxiety and excitement.

His Excellency received the deputation in the Privy Council chamber. Mr Brooks, M.P., having introduced the deputation, Mr Wigham read a memorial, a copy of which had been already presented to his Excellency, which protested against boats of an inferior kind than those at present in use being brought into requisition for the service under the the new contract. The Chamber of Commerce, who were of one mind on this subject, viewed with the strongest disapproval the transfer of the service from Kingstown to the Northwall. The Chamber also believed that the better the accommodation between Ireland and England the better it would be for both countries.

Mr Frederick Pim said the sole object of the Chamber of Commerce was to see that proper accommodation was provided for the public, and he wished to state that they had nothing whatever to say as to the competing companies.

The Lord Lieutenant, in reply, said, —I am exceedingly glad to be able to receive in Dublin itself a representative body which can speak with such high authority on this important matter. I say that the matter is important, because I fully admit the great necessity there is for the most convenient and speedy communication between this country and England. Now, with regard to some of the statements that have been made, I should like to point this out in defence of those who decided on this contract. Reference was made to a predecessor—a distinguished predecessor—of mine and a statement of his as to the necessity that every available means should be adopted for rendering that communication between Great Britain and Ireland as speedy and frequent as the growing wants and wishes of the two countries would justify. I would like to point out that in this contract these terms are fully pointed out, because the contract intends that the communication between Dublin and London should be. I think, half an hour quicker than it is at present. No doubt there is the other matter, which is the convenience of the travelling public, in consequence of the size of these vessels. Now I do not think that the Treasury or the Post Office had any intention of limiting the size or convenience or stability of those vessels. It has been pointed out that the alternative allowed to the Post Office to decide that the boats should come to Dublin instead of Kingstown almost necessarily points to the same vessels being used in the contract at Kingstown as could now be used in Dublin. I confess that there is very considerable force in that argument, but as far as I know—I do not hesitate to say that I have had communication with the Treasury on this subject—as far as I know there is no intention whatever of bringing, at the present moment, the steamers to Dublin instead of Kingstown. The tenders were asked for the conveyance of the mails between Holyhead and Dublin, not between Holyhead and Kingstown. I think that conclusively shows that at present, at all events, it is the intention of the Government that the contract should continue to Kingstown and not to Dublin. The explanation of the alternative reserved to the Post Office, I think, is this—that possibly some of those improvements to which Dr Lyons has referred might be so matured and carried to such an extent that the public might some day call out in favour of having Dublin made the port instead of Kingstown; but certainly it is not the intention of the Government at the present moment to alter the port of departure from Ireland from Kingstown to the Northwall. I am not in a position to make any concession or to promise that anything shall be changed with regard to this contract on the part of the Government; but I will engage to represent in the fullest and clearest manner the expression of opinion which has been given by the influential body of gentlemen I see before me. I will undertake to make this representation to the Government, and I feel that it will be a great advantage to the Treasury and to the Government to have had these clear and very able representations of the views of the citizens of Dublin and the public of Ireland before any further steps are taken in the matter. I do not know that I can say more than this on the present occasion, but I repeat my assurance that I will take care, in the clearest and most precise way I can, to represent to the Government the views which have been so well expressed.

Mr Bagot, on behalf of the deputation, thanked the Lord Lieutenant for the promises made.

The Gazette contains an order imposing restrictions upon certain districts in the counties of Meath and Westmeath in which foot-and-mouth disease has appeared.

Mr Tydd, paymaster of the Great Southern and Western Railway, committed suicide this morning, about 8 o'clock, by shooting himself with a gun at his own residence at Inchicore, near Dublin. He had been in the service of the company for 30 years, and was held in high esteem by the directors. He was also superintendent of the railway police. Mr Tydd was a retired inspector of Dublin metropolitan police. He had been suffering from mental depression for some days.

Cardinal MacCabe still continues to make satisfactory progress, and the doctors again entertain strong hopes of his recovery.

Cork, March 13th

Mr Baron Dowse, in opening the assizes at Clonmel to-day, adverted in congratulatory terms to the peaceable condition of the county. He said there were 97 offences reported since last assizes, as compared with 229 returned at the previous assizes.

THE ROW IN PARIS.

Paris, Monday, March 12.

Seventeen of the persons arrested yesterday for resisting the police have been sentenced to from six days' to four months' imprisonment.

The assault on M. Yves Guyot yesterday has evoked much comment. M. Guyot is a Municipal Councillor and writer for the Lanterne, who has been conspicuous for his denunciations of the police and for his advocacy of mob rule in Paris. There is something piquant in seeing such a man indebted to the police for his rescue from a band of roughs. He was presiding in the Salle de Rivoli over a meeting of 300 masons, assembled to discuss the slackness of work, when a troop of Anarchists, headed by two women—a public singer named Foirieux, who styles herself Mdlle. d'Arlincourt, and Madame Paule Minck (who lately wanted to register her infant as Lucifer Satan-Vercingetorix Minck)—invaded the hall. M. Guyot was condemning outdoor demonstrations, when an Anarchist sprang on the platform and exclaimed "What are you doing here? Ten thousand are waiting for you in front of the Hotel de Ville, in order to demonstrate." M. Guyot replied, "And what are you doing here? you are in your proper place when you are obeying the watchword of M. Cuneo d'Ornano" (the Bonapartist Deputy). This imputation of complicity with the Reactionaries infuriated the Anarchists. One of them threw a chair at M. Guyot, which he warded off; but others rushed on the platform, belaboured him unmercifully, tore his coat to shreds, kicked him, and half blinded him. The cash-box was broken on his head, and there is no saying what would have happened to him had not some friends fetched the police. M. Guyot, his face covered with blood, was taken into a neighbouring house, and went home in a cab. He refused to identify or prosecute his assailants, but the police arrested Mdlle. d'Arlincourt (an old pupil of the Conservatoire, and of Talbot, and a contralto of some talent, whom professional rebuffs have converted, at the age of 21, into a furious Anarchist). She was taken to the lock-up with several of her companions, and M. Guyot's natural desire to hush up the affair will not be gratified.

EDITORS' TABLE

The mails for the Royal Mail steamer Esk close to-day at the General Post-office at noon, sharp as a needle.

Our French subscribers blew us up the other day for exaggerating the news of the row in Paris. Exaggerating!! Just read the account the Times gives of it, Messieurs, and then kindly tell us what's coming—a Restoration or a Dictatorship?

The Rev. W. H. Shimield will preach at the Episcopal Chapel Flores, this morning.

The grandest opportunity of securing elegant and durable furniture at a moderate price is afforded the public to-morrow at the auction of Mr. A. C. Bean's household gods, in Calle Bella Vista, corner Callao. The advertisement gives a list of the furniture, but it cannot convey any idea of its worth and novelty, as much of it is new in this country, and there are many elegant specimens of New York High Life articles, not to be found, perhaps, in any other house in town. There is an immense variety, and we strongly advise those who are on the look-out for furniture not to lose the chance.

Nothing fresh from Montevideo. It is the old story: Papers abusing each other and the Government; rumours of revolt when there is no revolt; seizure of Buenos Aires papers by the "man in black" and so on. The Bank projects are still more or less in the balance, but they will pull through. Some of the money will go to promote Immigration on a large scale, and will prove a splendid investment.

Mr Stetson kindly asked us to have a peep at his Bazaar in Calle Florida on Friday, and we came out dazzled. "What a place to sack!" as old Blucher said of London. Everything in it, except Mrs Langtry's portrait, seems to be of gold or silver. The enameled iron clocks are wonderfully cheap and handsome, and a new "notion' in polished brass tables with beautiful landscapes on the top, is the nicest thing imported this year. The wax flowers are so like nature that we took one up to inhale the odour, and Mr S. laughed in the most polite manner. The Scroll Saw, (a man was at work with one) is a marvellous instrument. The photographs of Mrs Langtry and other stage celebrities are wonderfully well done. The Jersey Lily has lots of clothes on her, but some of her contemporaries would be all the better for an addition to their costume, the weather is so cold in the Great Republic just now. Stetson's is a veritable Art Museum, rather than a Bazaar, and as "entrada libre" is the rule, it is a very pleasant place in which to spend half an hour.

A Paris paper tells an amusing story, the scene of which is laid in a village in the Indre et Loire, where a quarrel has been raging between the Mayor and the local schoolmaster. The latter was recently summoned to appear before the Prefect of the department, to whom he complained of the Mayor's negligence. In proof of this he showed an official report, written by himself, and containing the following passage: "We have no case of hydrophobia or madness to report, unless it be that of the Mayor and corporation, who are idiots and raving madmen." The Mayor signed and stamped the document without reading it, little dreaming that it would be used as evidence against himself with the Prefect.

A colleague says that something has turned up that will 'dar vida' to the coming Municipal elections. In the good old times, before the city was federalized, this announcement would have meant a ruction at the polls; now-a-days, skull-cracking at elections is considered rather vulgar.

The new Artillery barracks now being built at Palermo will be the proper thing, very unlike the 'conventillos' in which the troops of the garrison of the city are condemned to live.

In reading over Mr. Vansittart's excellent Report on Paraguay, we saw Dr. Stewart's opinion on the climate, which is very favourable. He says that, vaccination being compulsory, small-pox is unknown in the country. This should be a hint for our Government. Congress should pass a Compulsory Vaccination Act the first thing next session.

Dyptheria is bad in San Nicolas. A gargle of pure alcohol is now the remedy for this disease in the United States; at least so we read the other day.

The present Duke of Wellington has a very large and interesting collection of letters and manuscripts, belonging, says Vanity Fair, to the late Duke, his father. Among them is a characteristic correspondence between the Duke and the Lady Jersey, 'Queen Sarah.' It is as follows:—"My dear Arthur—The Emperor Alexander is coming to see me to-morrow. How shall I receive him?" Across this little note is written in the Duke's handwriting:—"My dear Sarah—Receive him as you do all your other visitors." Again comes a note:—"My dear Arthur—The Emperor Alexander comes as a lover.' Across again is the answer:—My dear Sarah—Receive him as you do all your other lovers."

The National Telegraph lines must have the gout. An evening colleague complains that its last telegram from San Luis took nearly eight hours and a half in transmission!!

The telegrams from Rio are rather favourable. The Argentine Special Envoy has had several interviews with the Brazilian Minister of Foreign Affairs, about Misiones, and the general impression in Rio is that the treaty of 1857 will be adhered to and the whole affair settled peaceably.

There was a brisk breeze at the Municipality on Friday, about the poor turkeys. The Lord Mayor does not like to see them driven about our fashionable streets, while other members don't care a fig, so that they have cheap roast turkey for dinner and a devilled-drumstick for supper. The debate was hot, but was spoiled by one member slipping away and producing a "no quorum," so the turkeys must be discussed again another day.

According to the Madras Mail, several bags of cloves shipped from Zanzibal to London were found to contain a heavy per centage of artificial cloves neatly manufactured by machinery. They were made of pine, stained of a dark color, and had been soaked in an essence of the spice to give them the required odor. The Mail, recalling the wicked wooden nutmeg notion originated in Connecticut, declares the articles to be of American manufacture. Can they be dyed and scented shoe pegs?

There was a crowd of idlers on the Passenger Pier on Friday night to witness a trial of the new light for Martin Garcia. It seemed to do very well, and when in position on the island will be visible 20 miles at sea.

We thank our numerous friends who so kindly sent us the papers of the 13th which we asked for yesterday. Most of them refused the two paper dollars, which we think an excess of delicacy. We never refuse money.

The last storm played Old Enrique with the fortifications at Martin Garcia, causing considerable damage to the Battery, covered ways, artillery barracks, chapel and several houses. A corporal of artillery, who was on guard, was killed by the lightning.

Two rival belles at an evening party were seated in the conservatory with their respective cavaliers, enjoying their supper. The gas was turned down somewhat, as it shoutd be in a conservatory at an evening party.—"My dear Julia," said one of the fascinating creatures, "how beautiful your complexion is—in this dim light!"—"Oh, thank you!" responded her rival. "And how lovely you look in the dark."

"Absit omen." The locomotive "Union Nacional" broke down on Friday near Palermo, while tugging a down train. Of course our 'cronista' friends rushed on the Company yesterday morning in the style of days of old.

This is the Railway Age in the Plate. Another line is now spoken of—from Barracas to Navarro, calling at Monte, Las Heras and Canuelas. It would pay well, and will no doubt be made.

Signor Cardinale, the tenor engaged for the Colon Theatre this season, is a mere boy of 19 years. The best feather in his cap is, that he took Gayarre's place in Madrid lately, at a moment's notice, and won great applause in some of The King of Tenors' greatest parts. For a youth only three years on the stage, this is certainly pretty good.

The Ensenada Railway time-table changes to-day for the Autumn months.

Poor President Santos's ears ought to be as hot as fire. "The Oriental Kaffir" is what an evening colleague calls him; and as for its remarks about the Oriental Senate, they are too 'chocante' for our readers.

The Empress of Russia had a Viscountess turned out of the Palace at a recent Court fancy ball, because she went in the costume of a Naiad. She could hardly go in much less.

The adjourned General meeting of the Zingari Cricket Club will be held on next Friday evening, in the Scotch School-room.

In a Sunday school the teacher had been explaining the text, "Let your loins be girded." Wishing to see if they understood the explanation, he said to a boy, "Well, tell me now how and why we are commanded to gird up our loins?" "To keep up our breeches, sir," replied the youth.

One of the Kembles made his first appearance on the stage as an opera-singer. His voice was, however, so bad, that at a rehearsal the conductor of the orchestra called out, "Mr. Kemble! Mr. Kemble! you are murdering the music!" "My dear Sir," was his quiet rejoinder, "it is far better to murder it outright at once than to keep on beating it like you do."

ON 'CHANGE.

April 14th, 1883

Patacon	25.60
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	86½
National Bank Shares	105½

The stock market ruled weaker than yesterday, and Cedulas gave way, although very little sold. In National Bank Shares there is evidently a push to drive them down, but it has not succeeded, and although there is certainly no great life in the stock, still the shares rule harder than Cedulas. Series A advanced ¼ and is now quoted at 100½; one lot bought to pay off a mortgage. Series E opened for cash at 86¼ and closed at 86½; cash sales 46,000. For the end of the month although the sales were only 30,000, prices that ruled at one time in the day at 86½ closed sellers at 86¾, and for end of May a mere trifle done at 86½. Total day's sales 95,000. In Bank Shares 1,045 sold; prices for the end of the month gave way an eighth, opening at 106 for end of month and closing at 105⅞.

Exchange was done pretty freely to-day at 49⅝, and some brokers asked us on 'Change where these Santa Fé bills on Morton, Rose & Co. were to be found. We, of course, referred them to Rosario.

Letters from London by the mail were spoken of in connection with the Llambi Campbell business. The advices refer to the great difficulties in the London market to do any such transaction, owing to the sudden demand for gold for the New York market. Nevertheless we note that the Buenos Aires Great Southern Railway placed their 5 o/o debentures at 108, which shows the splendid credit of that River Plate Company in London.

The great news of the day, however, was the purchase of the Fabian Gomez estancia 17 square leagues of land in the partido of Pila, by Mr Gardner B Perry, one of our leading American export merchants, for the round sum of eleven millions currency. This is about the largest estancia purchase made in this market for very many years past. Every-one on 'Change talked of the business, and we may indeed well congratulate Mr Perry on his splendid purchase. he can consider himself fifty thousand pounds richer than before he signed the "boleto." The estancia is within 35 leagues of this city, and is one of the best known in the country. It is, at present, held on an unexpired lease for 2 years at the expiration of which Mr Perry may count on renting the land at a figure that will give him over 12 per cent per annum on his capital. Should he, however, prefer to stock it, and put, say, 34,000 cows and 170,000 sheep, just to make a beginning, and spend 600,000 m/c in wire fencing it, then he may count on 25 per cent per annum on his money. The land, we consider, if put up at auction to-morrow, would most easily fetch a million currency the league. The chief importance, we attach to this great purchase is the new circle in which estancia lands have found a buyer. In welcoming Mr Perry into the gremio of estancieros, we feel increased pleasure, since it is probable other rich merchants will follow his example. In fact we note with much satisfaction that people who, all their lives, refused to have anything to do with estancias are now willing purchasers, and a leading English merchant who never before owned an acre of land in the camp bid yesterday for a fine piece of land in the North, but the owner refused to accept the price offered.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 4,000 at 100½
For cash E 46,000 at 86¼-½
For April 30th E 30,000 at 86¾-½-¼-⅛
For May 31st E 15,000 at 86⅝-½
Sales, 95,000
National Bank Shares—
For cash 145 at 105½
For April 30th 500 at 106-½-106-105⅞
For May 31st 400 at 107½
Sales, 1,045

The balance in the Municipal Treasury on yesterday, after payment of coupons, &c., was $4,259,112 m/c.

Mr. Grant, who has arrived up from Curumalan, leaves to-morrow in the Esk; he has travelled much over the country which he likes so well that he goes back to Scotland to wind up and come out here to permanently settle.

Some people say that Lord Hamilton will be the chairman of the new National Bank of Montevideo. We suppose the shares will be at a noble premium.

The Provincial Bank and National Bank discounted yesterday; the former gave seven millions and the latter about half that amount.

The Diario this evening publishes some very important figures about the Provincial Bank. All the brokers read it with great interest; the figures indeed give very interesting facts about the coming conversion by the Bank. We adverted to the subject the other day.

Several sales of land 'boletos' are reported at the very high price of $32,000 m/c; but even at this figure they are scarce, and we expect to see them shortly quoted at $40,000 m/c.

Advices from Rio Cuarto are most favorable. The place is going ahead so fast that soon we expect to see a branch of the National Bank started there. Don Alejandro Roca who is Gefe Politico, is greatly praised for his exertions to push the place ahead. He is the largest estanciero up there, and has some 30 leagues of land all wire-fenced. Cows are selling 'al corte' at 11 Bolivianos, and bullocks at 45. At the Colony they have lost the maize crop owing to the drought, but the camps are now in splendid condition, and fetch 5,000 pats. per league. New settlers establishing themselves daily on the estancia lands. The powder factory is now working and we hear a tramway is to be run from the station to the town. Colonel Saspische in Command of the 2nd Artillery resides in the town, and there is a great deal of High Life in Rio Cuarto now. Mr. W. Brash is one of the largest merchants in the place, and is doing a great business. Mr. Olmos has the best house in the town, and Don Alejandro Roca is now sinking an artesian well on one of his estancias.

At afterhours not much done in stocks; shares closed at 106 for end of month, and 107½ for May. Cedulas 86¼ sellers for Monday, and 86½ for end of May. Certificates, National Bank Shares offered, one party holds 1,000 which he offers at 95, but another party who is apparently in want of money offers 250 at 90. Nothing done in this new description of stock.

The payments on the Bolsa were of the usual Saturday stamp; one collector for a large consignee of produce only got in two millions and complained of difficulty in getting money.

Mr Robinson, of the leading Concordia firm of Randle & Robinson, was welcomed on 'Change, he leaves to-morrow for Entre Rios.

The La Plata passengers, up to 4 o'clock, had not come on shore.

From the Uruguay we hear that estancieros are now selling their novillos at 10 pats., having held out too long. One party has 8,000 for sale; he is offered 10 pats. and may possibly get 11. He refused 14 pats. at opening of season.

One lot of fair mestiza wool, from Olavarria, was sold to-day, 1,000 arrobes, at $100 m/c per arrobe. This speaks for the Olavarria camps.

We remind those of our friends who want first-class furniture that Mr. Bean's auction comes off on Monday. Everything will be sold without the least reserve.

A Glasgow coal cargo sold to-day, to arrive, at 12 pats. This shows, at last, some movement in this excellent article.

A cargo of spruce has been sent to deposit; and a large sale of steel fencing-wire reported at 88, which is cheaper than the coal.

The following sales of saladero produce reported:—
5,000 salted ox 64 lb., Luro reserved.
100 pipes tallow 15¾ rls.
4,000 qq Havannah beef, 40 rls.
2,500 " " " Uruguay.
2,500 " " "
6,000 " Casa Blanca 40 rls.
And one or two cargoes for Brasil reported at 42½.

The American barque Samuel E. Spring has cleared from Rosario for the States with full produce cargo.

The Queen Victoria with a pine cargo has entered at Montevideo.

Several leagues of the Loreto camps have been resold at an average profit of $25,000 m/c, per league. Some lots have fetched higher. These camps are now much enquired for, and the resale of some eight lots depends on a telegram expected hourly from London.

Bullrich's 21 square leagues of land to be sold on 25th continue to attract much notice, and one or two parties who have been out to see the land have arrived back at Pergamino. We hear that their report is most favorable and the probabilities are that these lands, instead of passing into the hands of speculators, will be bought by bona fide settlers, who will move with their stock out to the land as soon as they buy it at the auction. All the lagunas out there are full and the lands never looked better.

We have received by the mail Smith, Morrison & Co.'s Freights List, should any merchant wish to revise it.

The sales at afterhours were:—
National Bank Shares—
For April 30th seller at 106¼
For May 31st buyer at 107½
Cedulas—
For April 30th E seller at 86¼
For May 31st E seller at 86⅝

Messrs. Bunge & Co. in their important produce circular, give the following under date Antwerp, March 15th, 1883:—
Wool—
Hardly any change has occurred since we last reported. Enquiry has continued pretty briskly and a few hundred bales are sold daily at firm prices.
Our statistical position is as follows:—

		Bales.
Stock on 1st March		18,130
		Bales.
Arrivals from Buenos Aires	4,385
Do Montevideo..	866
Do Rivers	—	5,251
Sales by private contract	1,906 bls.	23,381
Public sales	—
Transit	2,411 bls.	4,317
Stock to-day		19,064

News from our neighbouring markets continue satisfactory and the opinion is generally gaining ground that present prices are not liable to any further depreciation of moment. The best proof of it is the spirited bidding kept up throughout the London sales which are now approaching towards their close. Reports from that city show prices as being fully maintained, and in some instances slightly in holders' favour. Purchases for America have been made to the extent of about 3,000 bales.
At the public sales which are now being held in Havre, and which are to close to-day, 3,516 bales have been brought forward up to now and 1,833 bales sold. It appears that these auctions are well attended and prices for all good qualities about 5 centimes higher than in January. Other sorts neglected.

Estos magnificos campos situados en la Provincia de Cordoba, sobre la linea divisoria de la Provincia de Buenos Aires, distan solamente 7 leguas del Fortin Gainza y 2 leguas de los campos de los señores Salas y Cernadas que acaban de vender 25 leguas cuadradas a razon de diez mil pesos fuertes la legua y que se destinan a la formacion de un gran Establecimiento Rural, a mas del de los señores arriba nombrados y otros muchos alli existentes ya.

La calidad de los pastos es inmejorable para la cria de toda clase de ganados; lo demuestran los rodeos y majadas alli existentes que han venido huyendo de la seca que sufrian todos los Partidos del Norte y Oeste de la Provincia de Buenos Aires.

Ademas no debe perderse de vista la importancia y el porvenir que tienen estas tierras que debe atravesar el gran ferro carril Trasandino.

Debemos llamar muy especialmente la atencion de los compradores y pobladores de areas pequeñas, sobre las ventajas que tienen estos campos, que una vez vendidos seran entregados inmediatamente a los compradores, pues han sido vendidos judicialmente y aprobadas las mensuras, para cuyo efecto los vendedores ponen a disposicion de los interesados todas las referencias, y los titulos que se garanten de la manera mas eficaz, pues no hay protestas de ningun genero a su respecto.

La venta se efectuara sin base alguna, por lotes de media legua con opcion hasta cuatro leguas, y el pago se hara al escriturarse una quinta parte y el resto a uno, dos, tres y cuatro años de plazo, con pagare hipotecario e intereses del 7 o/o (siete) anual.

NOMINA—De los nombres de los dueños de los Establecimientos que rodean estos campos.

El Sabado 21 del corriente

A las 3 de la tarde

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, por orden terminante de su dueño.

El establecimiento de campo arriba indicado compuesto de 2 leguas 383 mit. de otro de figura enteramente regular, pues tiene 8014 mts. por un costado y 7977 mts por otro

Linda con la sucession de D. Narciso Martinez de Hoz, Angel Beatti, Campbell, Carlos Salas, actualmente esta alambrado por dos costados y el Sr Dr Quirno Costa que ha arrendado el campo de Martinez de Hoz, va alambrar ese campo de manera que no queda mas que un costado por alambrarse.

Tiene una buena poblacion de 4 piezas techo fierro galvanizado, con dos potreros, quintas y montes, 5 puestos mas, algunos con potreros, y algun monte.

Ademas tiene buenas aguadas, entre ellas 1 laguna muy resistente.

El campo es superior tanto para ovejas como para vacas, y actualmente hay alli haciendas de ambas especies.

Esta situado el campo en medio de Establecimientos muy valiosos de los Sres Carabassa, Martinez de Hoz (hoy ocupados por el Dr Quirno Costa), Gebey, Grigg, Drysdale Lausen y muchos otros, pues es sabido que este Partido se ha poblado en estos ultimos tiempos de manera asombrosa, lo mismo que el Partido de Lincoln limitrofe con este.

Los precios pagados ultimamente en uno y otro partido no han bajado de 350 a 400,000 $ legua, asi que la base de $280,000 fijada para la venta no puede sino reputarse muy modica.

Por planos y pormenores ocurran a nuestra casa. Alsina 78.
